In Church as It Is in Heaven, by Jamaal E. Williams & Timothy Paul Jones- All around us, our culture is divided by race, politics, and social class. Sometimes, our churches are separated along these same lines. But what if your church could see these divisions healed? You can. God's Word provides hope and a vision for thriving multiethnic, multigenerational, and multi-socio-economic churches. The earliest Christians knew this, and they developed diverse congregations that changed the world. Over the past several years, Jamaal Williams and Timothy Paul Jones have led a faithful, gospel-centered church to multiply in ethnic diversity in a racially divided city. This video series prepares your church, small group, or youth group to cultivate the same multiethnic kingdom culture that gave hope to the world in the earliest centuries of Christian faith.

Healing from Despair, by William Subash- The Psalms take an honest look at the feelings followers of Christ have—longing for God's presence in the midst of hopelessness. In this inspirational session, pastor William Subash from The Crossroads Church in Bangalore, India traces the journey of a psalmist from despair to reverence.

Healing The Family, by Ed Young- Join Dr. Ed Young as he takes a Biblical look at the most important relationship issues in our lives—from dating and singleness, to marriage, sex, and divorce.
